Violence against police on the up as knifeman film is released

Video nasty

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

A shocking video of the terrifying moment a knife-wielding man lunged at a police officer has sparked an urgent call for more widespread taser training.

The footage, released on BBC Crimewatch on Tuesday night, comes at a time when assaults on police officers in the county have reached the highest level in five years, the H&P can reveal.

Figures obtained from Northants Police show that in 2010/11 there were 154 assaults on officers without injury, and six with injury.

But in 2014/15, those figures surged to 262 and 41 respectively.

The chairman of Northants Police Federation, Gez Jackson, told this newspaper that some victims of assault have been left so crippled with fear that they have had to call off work sick.

He added: "It is very worrying what is happening out there.

"It is not part of what we do – it should never be an acceptable part of what we do.

"It is a violent world out there and my boys and girls go out there knowing that it can happen at any time."

To combat this, Mr Jackson says more officers need to be taser trained.

"We do have tasers, but they are very rarely used," he said.

"I know it is controversial, but tasers are an effective and non-lethal way of stopping a criminal in their tracks.

"There is this thing called red dotting, where you point the taser at someone and they know you have your fingers on the trigger, and so they stop. This is something I would champion."

The footage aired on Crimewatch this week was just one of the 151 assaults without injury recorded in 2013/2014, which showed PC Alex Prentice and PC Debbie Wishart attending a domestic incident at an address in Corby in March last year.

The officers were then confronted by a man wielding a large kitchen knife, who started lunging his weapon at PC Prentice.

At one point, the man – Lee Vickers – thrust his knife just inches away from the officer's neck. He was then distracted by a colleague, before being arrested.

Talking to the programme about the attack, PC Prentice said: "It's not the first time that this type of incident has happened to either of us, but it is the first time it has been so close."

Thanks to the video evidence, captured on PC Prentice's body-worn camera, the man was later jailed for three-and-a-half years.

CAUGHT ON CAMERA: The knife-wielding incident was just one of over 190 assaults on officers in 2013/14

Pink shirts - three points - back of the net - result!

Northampton Town players are set to look pretty in pink.

Last Friday, the club announced the new kits for the 2015-16 season.

The home shirt is the Cobblers traditional claret and white.

But the away shirt is bright pink.

This colour was selected in aid of charity, which sees club partner with breast cancer charity CoppaFeel.

The question I ask myself is when football clubs or rugby teams have pink shirts why do people let out a collective gasp?

Is it so strange to see Bristol City, Juventus or Stade Francais in pink? It is different but why are some of us threatened by pink? It leaves me thinking are we all comfortable with our sexuality? In the modern age men wear pink shirts and pink ties. Why is there this colour barrier when it comes to pink?

Some maybe unhappy with the Cobblers in pink but let me paraphrase a comedy speech from Ripping Yarns:

“Why are some of us threatened by pink? It leaves me thinking, are we all comfortable with our sexuality?”

“I came here to create a football team, a tough ruthless fighting unit. I don't care if your shirts are pink “Shirts aren't what it is all about! “I don't care if your pink shirts are made in Austria or Timbuc-too or come with pink stars on which light up at night. They're not important! D'you hear! They're nothing to do with football! The only things that matter are what's inside them...the machine that you've got pounding away in there. Up and down, up and down for ninety minutes.

“Forget them. Throw 'em in the canal. Goodbye shirts...hello football.”

So when it comes to away games for Cobblers fans remember pink is the colour and football is the game.

As when the final whistle goes and it is 2-1 to the Cobblers it will be pink shirts - three points - back of the net - result.

Wheat a great way to propose

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

A farmer proposed to his fiancée by ploughing his proposal into a field before taking to the skies to pop the question.

Rick Davies used a quad-bike to carve the words 'Di, will you marry me?' into a field of wheat at his home farm of Newton Lodge, in Clifton Reynes, near Olney.

He then took partner Diana Cull, from Northants over the 20-acre field on a plane - and she wept with delight at the surprise and said yes.

Rick, 32 said: "I had been thinking for about a year, what the hell was I going to do? Then I won a flight at a charity auction for £50.

"After about two weeks it suddenly came to me that I could write it in the crops and we could go up in the plane.

"I used a weed killer

CROPPING UP: The message carved out by Rick Davies and, inset, with fiancée Diana Cull that was sprayed onto a quad bike and I just spelled it out. But I had to leave it at least a week before we flew up, so I did it the week before the flight on May 4.

"I was really nervous about whether it was going to have worked. But it worked out even better than I had hoped."

Diana, 33, from Holcot, said: "It was the most fantastic moment of my life and it was a big fat yes. I am the luckiest lady alive."

Rick first met Diana, 33, from Holcot, about two-and-a-half years ago, when they were set up by friends in a 'Come Dine With Me' style dinner party.

The couple have set a date of July 9 next year to tie the knot, and have kept things local as they will marry at St Mary the Virgin Church in Clifton Reynes.

'Stuck in an office is a no-go'

Reporter NICHOLAS BIEBER speaks to the new chief constable of Northants Police on his first day in the job . . .

The new chief constable of Northamptonshire Police has pledged to get officers out into their communities and crack down on violent crime.

Simon Edens started his first day in charge of the force touring the county on Monday, visiting officers in Kettering, going out on patrol in Oundle, and visiting stations across Wellingborough and Northampton.

Mr Edens, who has worked for five different forces, says that one of his main targets as chief constable will be to reduce violent crime.

He said: "The idea is that we prevent it. We work very closely with partners such as the local authorities.

"In order to prevent that sort of harm we need to deal with the most vulnerable in society and the most dangerous in society.

Getting that balance right helps to reduce the threat of violence."

He added: "At the end of the day, our core purpose is protecting people from harm and keeping communities safe."

Mr Edens, who left his role as deputy chief constable of Leicestershire Police last Friday, also took the opportunity throughout the day to post updates on his new Twitter account @NorthantsChief.

Talking to the H&P at Weston Favell police station – one of the stops on his tour – Mr Edens told how his Twitter account was a part of his aim to be more visible in the public eye.

He said: "Myself and the chief officer team will adopt what I call 'agile working', which allows officers to do tasks away from the office and not be tied to a desk.

"The force has the technology now that allows us to do that, and means officers don't have to return to a police station.

"The idea usually is that officers are tied to an office or a building, but that's not where policing happens. Policing happens out in the community and out of big buildings.

"This sort of mark was an important one for me to make on my first day."

Mr Edens, who started his career with Royal Ulster Constabulary, was appointed to his role last month by Police and Crime Commissioner Adam Simmonds, after an application process which included a Question Time event.

Asked why he wanted to take on the opportunity, he said: "There are lots of opportunities that arise as one goes through one's career and you can't always predict when one is going to happen.

"So this happened at a good time for me.

"I was really attracted by what's going on in Northamptonshire. I knew the force – it's relatively local to where I live and there are a number of personal and professional reasons why it was perfect for me.

GEED UP: New Northants Chief Constable Simon Edens meets with PCSO Tash

"I am also excited by the ambition the force represents. "We are not content with 'good enough', we want to go beyond that. So I was very excited to apply for the job."

Bounds buys out its rival taxi firm

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

Northampton's biggest taxi firm, Bounds, is set to buy out its rival counterpart, but insist both businesses will be operated separately.

The 57-year-old firm announced last week, in a letter to its drivers and other staff members, that it would soon be purchasing 100 per cent of the shares in K Cars.

Addressing fears that K Cars – the second largest private hire company in Northampton – may see its brand changed as a result of the takeover, Bounds said that won't be the case, and that it is 'essential that we maintain this reputation by keeping the K Cars brand going and operating it separately to Bounds'.

The letter, by the director of Bounds Taxis, David Wright, reads: "The most important facts are that K Cars will continue to operate as an independent company, with all calls to 01604 604040 being booked as jobs totally separate to Bounds and all jobs for K Cars being dispatched to the existing K Cars drivers. In other words, K Cars customers will continue to be serviced by K Cars drivers.

"You will know that Bounds has purchased other companies in the past and that these companies were merged into Bounds.

"However, it is no secret that K Cars directly benefited in the past from such mergers, with customers and drivers choosing to leave Bounds and work for K Cars. It could be interpreted that Bounds made mistakes in the past, by merging a newly acquired company with Bounds directly."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Trevor Skidmore feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service the Northampton, Kettering, Wellingborough & Corby areas and Trevor is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Trevor a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Northampton-based brewers Carlsberg caused delight at London City Airport last week when airline passengers saw their luggage replaced - by free beer. PINK POWER: Northampton Town FC will wear these kits in the new 2015/16 season

Cobblers go fluorescent in charity pink

Northampton Town have unveiled their brand new home and away kits for next season - which includes a stand out pink strip.

The League Two side unveiled the 2015/16 strips at 10pm last Thursday, which are modelled by Cobblers stars Marc Richards and Ricky Holmes. Sticking with tradition, the home kit is a striped claret shirt with a unique collar design which is half claret and half white.

The away kit, however, despite also carrying the logos of University of Northampton on the front and Opus Energy on the back, just like the home kit, - shows off a completely new look in pink.

This stand-out look is in aid of charity, with the club partnering up with breast cancer charity CoppaFeel. Ten per cent of the income from the away kit sales will be donated to CoppaFeel.

The online reactions from Cobblers fans show they are not crazy for pink, but love the charity idea. See p12.

Club takeover going 'very well'

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@thepostman.co.uk

Northampton Town chairman David Cardoza has said the takeover of the club by an Indian consortium is 'progressing really well.'

It was revealed in June that the Cobblers had agreed a heads of terms agreement with the group, but few further details have been forthcoming and the identity of the consortium has still not been revealed.

The Herald and Post has approached a number of leads in a bid to find out who the mystery owners are, including JSW Group, which owns Indian football club Bengaluru - which is managed by former Cobblers player Andy Westwood.

But the Mumbai-based company, which has interests in steel and power, denied the claim.

In a new statement Mr Cardoza, pictured, said: "I understand supporters are keen for information but much of the legal work being done has to take its natural course.

"What I can say is that things are progressing really well. The consortium met with Northampton Borough Council last Monday and I understand that was a really positive meeting.

"The due diligence process is in full flow and the lawyers are moving towards completing their work.

"We hope to be able to advise a potential completion date for the takeover shortly, but supporters can be advised that things are very much progressing forwards and are on track."

Woman cleared over fake passport

A woman has been cleared of using a fake passport in an attempt to get a National Insurance number at the Department for Work and Pensions in Bedford.

Saziso Momodu, of Montgomery Way, Northampton, had a

Zimbabwean passport for proof of ID when she made her application in January.

But Luton crown court was told staff at the office were suspicious about the passport and found it to be fake.

Mrs Momodu, 38, was then arrested and went on trial accused of possessing an identity document with improper use and fraud by making a false representation. Mrs Momodu said she thought it was genuine.

She was later found not guilty.

STAND OFF: Mr Anderson's rooftop protest for climate change sparked a major security alert

Daredevil admits £5k damage on Parliament roof

A Northampton man has admitted causing £5.5k of damage to the Houses of Parliament during an eight hour stand-off on the roof. Braydon Liam Anderson, 23, of Portland Place, sparked a major security alert when he scaled the historic landmark on March 7 this year and refused to leave telling officers he got there 'by magic'. He yanked a golden ornamental crown from the top of a colonnade and used it to smash a stained glass window, as well as shattering 11 more windows and battering a CCTV camera. Anderson, a rickshaw driver, admitted a charge of criminal damage when he appeared at Southwark Crown Court on Tuesday. He will be sentenced in September with a charge of trespass.

D-Day arrives for £15m Sekhemka

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

A temporary export ban on an Egyptian statue that was controversially sold by Northampton Borough Council for £15.76 million expires today – plunging its future in Britain into doubt.

The statue of Sekhemka was sold at Christie's auction in London to an anonymous overseas buyer in July 2014, but a temporary export ban later stopped it being moved abroad.

The year-long ban expires today, meaning the statue could soon be heading out of the UK.

But the H&P has discovered that if a UK buyer comes forward with the 'intention' of buying the statue, the ban period would be extended until March 2016, to allow time for the purchase to take place.

This could see the statue remain in Britain.

If nobody comes forward, the current owner will be able to apply for an export licence and – if successful – will be able to move it abroad.

A spokesperson for Arts Council England last night refused to comment on whether any approach to purchase the statue had been made.

A department of culture, media and sport spokesperson said: "We hope the temporary export bar that has been put in place will result in a UK buyer coming forward so that the statue can remain in Britain."

"The deferral period may be extended, but only if a serious intention to raise funds to purchase the statue is made."

Earlier this week campaigners at the Save Sekhemka Action Group called on PM David Cameron to intervene and ensure it stays in Britain.

The group claimed the export of the statue would 'benefit no one', except 'international terrorists and criminal gangs'.

Dogs sniff out illegal cigarettes

More than 1,000 packets of illegal cigarettes were discovered in a series of raids in the county thanks to Yo-Yo, Phoebe and Scamp.

With the help of trained sniffer dogs, Trading Standards and police uncovered the illicit cigarettes, plus 100 pouches of illegal tobacco, concealed in premises in Northampton and Corby. Cllr André González de Savage, said: "Illegal cigarettes not only pose a risk to people's health but those involved in their sale are often linked to other forms of criminal activity, including drug dealing, money laundering, people trafficking and even terrorism."

BLOGGER OF THE WEEK: The forest of the mind

James McInerney

Northampton poet, James McInerney continues his 100 per cent record of not being able to write another of his monthly blogs. Here he explains what a dress which could be blue or black and a forest of trees has to do with a lack of blog writing.

I'm sorry I couldn't write my blog this month because, believe it or not, I was too busy trying to decide whether the dress that divided the internet was actually white and gold or blue and black.

In February, a washed-out photograph of a dress was posted on Tumblr and it caused a frenzy across the globe on social networking sites, amassing over 10 million tweets alone on twitter as to its actual colour.

Now I'm not normally into viral phenomenon's but I couldn't help but find myself drawn to the debate long after the owner of the photo publically announced that the dress was in fact blue and black.

Being the non-believer that I am and convinced that what we were told was a further way to mess with our heads, I had to devote all my spare time to the cause in search of the truth and the hope that I can finally get some sleep at night.

I have literally spent all month obsessively studying different shades of colour (of which there are many) especially the greys, I counted fifty on the last attempt, and I am convinced that I have become colour-blind in the process.

At first glance it does look blue and black, but I've spent so long intensely staring at the picture that I have started seeing reds and greens and pinks, colours that were never even an option in the first place.

It's really making me question everything, including my own sanity.

There is an old saying that 'A seed of doubt in your mind, over time can become a tree' metaphorically speaking, right now I've got a forest growing in my mind and I'm lost..... Help!!!

Maybe writing about this instead of doing my monthly blog will reignite the debate and get people talking about it all over again so we can finally get some real answers. Is it white and gold or blue and black? I promise to write my blog next month assuming I can find my way out of these woods.

It's making me question everything, including my own sanity

Refreshing to hear local paper using correct title

I wish to congratulate you on your Editor's comments in the Herald & Post, July 16, regarding the deal between NBC and Mr Cardoza over the Sixfields Community Stadium.

It is refreshing to hear the editor of a local newspaper using the correct title of The Sixfields Community Stadium, because it was bought by the council tax payer at a cost of over £6m for use by the whole community, something NBC seems desperate to forget whilst they attempt to cover up the saga of its disposal to Mr Cardoza and NTFC, subsequently to be sold onto an unnamed Indian consortium.

For nearly a year I have been trying to obtain an explanation from NBC as to how the deal they have arrived at with Mr Cardoza is in the best interests of the council tax payer and the wider community.

It seems madness to lease for £1.00 a community stadium now worth over £12m with development consent to a private developer and owner of the NTFC, who have resided rent free in the Sixfields Stadium for over two decades at a cost of £500k pa to the council tax payer, also now standing guarantor of a government loan of £12m to Mr Cardoza for the NTFC development.

Mr Cardoza now proposes to sell his stake at a profit to an unnamed Indian consortium because it has all got too much for him, although he hopes he may work for this Indian consortium in the interim?

I think an independent and impartial enquiry into the whole Sixfields community stadium deal right from the initial agreement up to the present is needed to answer so many concerns of the ordinary citizens of Northampton, and to ensure that this deal really is in their best interest.

Yesterday I wrote to my MP, Mr David Mackintosh, asking him to investigate these issues and I also copied in The Secretary Of State, Mr Greg Clark MP.

Cobblers fans not crazy for pink, but love the cause

Northampton Town have released their new 2015/16 kits, which includes a pink away strip to raise money for a cancer charity. Here are what fans had to say about it on Facebook:

ADAM BURTON: It's a horrible, ghastly kit but as its for a good cause we can accept it :)

TRACY REES: It's not my favourite. . But it's for a fab cause... so yes, it's great and very brave of the boys to be wearing pink.

MARTIN ASHLEY BROWN: I think it's brilliant and it's for a good cause.

New matting is child's play

BY LAWRENCE JOHN
lawrence.john@hpnorthants.co.uk

Children at a Wellingborough school will now be able to use their trim trail all year round thanks to help from the Healthier Child Project.

The Healthier Child Project is a new initiative led by Northamptonshire County Council alongside Northamptonshire Healthcare Foundation Trust to help combat the problem of childhood obesity within the county.

It focuses on three key areas: healthy eating, physical activity and mental health and wellbeing.

Ruskin Junior Academy is one of more than 100 schools that have signed up to the Healthier Child Project.

As part of their action plan, it was identified that matting was needed underneath their trim trail so the children could play outside all year round, as the area used to get very muddy and slippery in the winter.

The Healthier Child Project match funded the cost of the matting which has now been fitted, making the playground suitable for play during all seasons and enabling children to be active all year round.

Headteacher of the school Kate French said: "This has made a great difference to our children and to the amount of activity that will take place on the trim trail throughout the year."

WIPED OUT: The scene at the depot after the blaze on Saturday

Fire destroys fleet of waste trucks

A fleet of waste trucks were destroyed when a fire broke out at a depot in Chelveston.

On Saturday, East Northamptonshire Council's fleet of waste trucks were destroyed in a blaze which Police believe was as a result of 'accidental ignition.'

The fire ruined six vehicles which were owned by Kier Environmental Services.

Kier have organised replacement vehicles to collect residents' refuse, recycling and food waste, and it is business as usual for the collections crew.

Residents are being asked to put out their bins as normal at 7am on collection day.

Please visit www.east-northamptonshire.gov.uk/waste or the 'Reduce Reuse Recycle with East Northamptonshire Council' Facebook page for any updates on the service or call 01832 742026 for more information.

A hotline for the bin spies

BY LAWRENCE JOHN

lawrence.john@hpnorthants.co.uk

A crackdown on families who abuse the council's green sack policy 'totally misses the point', according to one borough councillor.

This week, Northampton Borough Council set up a special hotline for curfew-twitching neighbours to spy on 'flytipping' families and report them to the council.

The local authority is not hitting its recycling rate, currently recycling just 44 per cent of all waste - lower than its own target of 48 per cent. The government wants all councils to achieve a 50 per cent rate by 2020.

In a bid to try and reach its target, the council has set up a hotline to inform households about sack collections and for them to report any issues concerning neighbours not complying with the two green sacks policy, introduced back in 2013.

This includes a visit from council officers and a warning being issued with the last resort an £80 fine.

Deputy Leader of the Labour Group, Cllr Gareth Eales, has said this is a 'poor' way to make up for the council's lack of progress towards its target.

He said: "Treating people who put out their rubbish incorrectly as flytippers is stupid.

"The council can't make reach their recycling targets so what they are doing is clamping down on residents with £80 fines who don't comply with the strict two green sacks policy. The way this is being handled by is poor."

Cllr Mary Markham, leader of Northampton Borough Council, said: "We are doing all we can to help people comply with the policy, but communities need to help us deal with those householders who aren't complying.

"Please call us if someone near you is putting out their rubbish incorrectly - on the wrong day or in the wrong sacks.

"We will do our bit, but I urge people to help us by calling the hotline and telling us what's happening and who is doing it."

The dedicated hotline to report people presenting their waste sacks incorrectly is 01604 838858.

Growing fear of having an off day

BY LAWRENCE JOHN

lawrence.john@hpnorthants.co.uk

There is a new digital fear building up in people and it is causing them high anxiety.

The new technological compulsion is called FOBO – Fear Of Being Off Line.

This new obsessive compulsive addiction to the smart phone was circulated in a survey carried out by Iowa State University of Science and Technology to collate the extent of nomophobia – smartphone anxiety.

In a Gallup poll in the USA it showed 81 per cent of smart-phone users kept their phones with them almost all the time during the hours they were awake, and 63 per cent kept their phones handy even when they were asleep.

As social media expert at the University of Northampton Emma Rose is well-placed to comment on this very modern phobia.

Emma explained there were two toxic elements behind the problem: peer pressure and loneliness.

And these she said were added to by obsession and addiction.

Emma said: "Young people come under peer pressure at certain stages of their lives, as they do with loneliness."

"But this is made worse with obsession and addiction."

"As a result he fear of being off line can become toxic"

"The tipping point for young people comes when they go to university, get a job or have a new relationship."

"They push their social life online away and replace it with an actual life."

"They reach a time where they realise they don't need this and take a natural

"They still keep a digital life by checking their web-site etc.

"There is now a counter culture where young people are deliberately cutting off their social life on line.

"They are disconnecting as the situation has snapped like an elastic band.

"There is a difference between a digital life and a social life."

Asked how she would solve the fear of being offline problem, which particularly affects young people, Emma said: "Put the phone down and go outside if it is a sunny day.

"Go and watch a film with your friends or visit a museum or an art gallery."

FEEL GOOD FACTOR

Good living, getting out there and getting on with it in Northants

Crazy Hats help fund get ahead

A fundraising appeal to refurbish the chemotherapy suite at Northampton General Hospital has reached £350,000 thanks to a huge donation from local cancer charity, Crazy Hats.

The Northants charity, which raises money to improve breast cancer care in the county, presented a £30k cheque to the chemotherapy suite appeal, taking the total raised so far to £250k.

The £30k was raised earlier this year at the annual Crazy Hats walk at Wicksteed Park. The donation has been earmarked to pay for the cost of refurbishing the treatment preparation room in the chemotherapy suite.

A hair raising feat

A cancer patient from Northampton determined not to lose her hair to chemotherapy is taking action by shaving her head for charity.

Tracey Cooze, pictured, who was recently diagnosed with a rare form of cancer called Small Cell Cancer, will wave goodbye to her shoulder-length hair at Abington Public House on August 8, at 8pm.

The head shave will see her hair plaited into tiny locks, which will then be snipped off and donated to The Little Princess Trust – a charity which makes wigs for children who have been diagnosed with cancer.

The money raised from the head shave will then go to the Northampton branch of 'Guide Dogs for the Blind', which Tracey volunteers for. To donate, visit www.just-giving.com/tamara-bell/

Club's life-saving purchase

A Northamptonshire business breakfast club has bought a device to aid resuscitation as a precaution after a member had a cardiac arrest.

The automated external defibrillator will be taken to NN coNnect's five breakfast meetings across Corby, Daventry, Northampton, Stanwick and Wellingborough – just in case the network's 114 members suffer a similar fate.

Members raised more than £1,000 to buy the life-saving device after Phil Snelling, who runs HR Bespoke Solutions, had a cardiac arrest in May last year.

Dream job after big weight loss

A trigger moment in Helena Rea's desire to lose weight came when realising she couldn't do up her size 20 jeans just after her 30th birthday.

Following years of travelling around the world reporting news in West Africa and teaching in Thailand, Helena, 36, from Rushden, found taking up an office job upon her return to the UK led to her gaining weight.

When she was unable to do up her size 20 jeans just after her 30th birthday, Helena realised it was time to do something about her weight, so she signed up to her local gym and began personal training sessions.

Combined with regularly attending classes, Helena was able to lose an incredible 5 ½ stone and it was one of her personal trainers who inspired her to consider a career in health and fitness.

She said: "Watching one of the classes, I thought to myself, I'd love to be up there teaching people, but I'd always been under the impression that you had to be stick thin to be a personal trainer and I had always been a lot larger."

"However, when a new personal trainer joined, who was around a size 14/16, it really inspired me and made me think that this was something I could go for."

It was this that propelled Helena forward and she signed up to study both Level 2 and 3 Diplomas with Premier Training International.

"The courses were fantastic – hard work and challenging."

Some of the catchphrases that the tutors

SUPER FIT: Helena Rea before and after shedding more than five stone used to say to us, I now use with my clients, so it's been really useful," adds Helena.

After completing her courses, Helena then went on to work as a duty manager and fitness instructor at her local community gym, before embarking on her own personal training business as well.

Helena added: "It's been tough juggling the manager position along with my own business, but it's so rewarding to help clients achieve their goals that it makes it all worth it."

WELCOME TO OUR HOMES & GARDENS FEATURE!

Summer is well and truly in full swing with the long drawn out light evenings and early mornings!

Major improvements may be beyond your means in these cash strapped times but even the smallest of DIY mini makeovers can lift your spirits and brighten up your home. If you have decided that improving is better than moving take a look through our feature for some inspirational ideas.

As for the great outdoors, make the most of the long lazy summer evenings enjoying the al fresco lifestyle, small details such as inexpensive strings of fairy lights around the garden and different coloured pots and flowers will help to bring the outdoors in. If you really want to save time and money going forward then how about an artificial lawn? The perfect lawn all year round!

There's no need to take out a second mortgage to freshen up and make a few significant alterations. With a little creativity – but not a lot of money – you can really make the most of summer at home and in the garden!

YOUR HOME.
OUR PRIORITY.

Refresh your home this spring and save time, money and hassle on painting tired and rotten timber

What Your Agent Has To Say

Viva Jackson Grundy's Spanish offices

Having opened the doors to its first branch, in Duston, back in 1994, Jackson Grundy has expanded its office network in Northamptonshire to 11 sales branches and three lettings departments.

The main reason for growing the company within the boundaries of Northamptonshire has been to build the strongest possible profile to benefit all its clients and the business in general. Jackson Grundy firmly believe that high impact, countywide exposure is far more effective in achieving results for its clients than a 'watered down' service similar to that offered by the national corporate-financed chains.

This local success, and the support of so many local residents, has allowed the company to raise and donate in excess of £65,000 to community groups and charitable projects in the area.

So now, 21 years on, the time is right for Jackson Grundy to take this mentality overseas; as such, the company is delighted to have opened its first two offices in Nueva Andalucia, Costa del Sol.

The Spanish offices are overseen by

SPANISH STEPS: Jackson Grundy is exporting its property know-how. Pictured are the Spanish team – Helga, Amy, Malcolm and Solange

Managing Director David Jackson and headed up by Manager Amy Deehan, who has worked for the company for over 10 years. They are joined by a multi-lingual team of local staff who have lived on the coast for many years.

You will find their expertise invaluable in gaining familiarity with the Spanish system.

So if you would like to know more about buying property on the Costa Del Sol, in the first instance please contact Claire, our coordinator in the UK, on 01604 753044.

JACKSON GRUNDY REAL ESTATE

JACKSON GRUNDY has been trading in the UK for 21 years and has established itself as a market leading independent Estate Agent. The company opened its first two Spanish offices in March and Managing Director David Jackson explains why:

David comments, "The Spanish property market has gone through a huge change during the last 10 years. Property sales in Spain are almost 60 percent lower than at their peak. Buyers from all over Europe, China and Russia are returning to the market and property prices have now stabilised, with all the signs indicating that the market will now steadily move forward. Spain is now one of the safest places to buy in Europe and offers incredible value for money and quality of life."

Trust is the key word, whether you are buying or selling. Jackson Grundy currently employ around 70 people in the UK and over half of these have worked for the company for over 10 years, providing continuity and experience for clients.

The Spanish office will be overseen by Managing Director David Jackson and headed up by Office Manager Amy Deehan, who has worked for the company for over 10 years. They are joined by a multi-lingual team of local staff who have lived on the coast for many years.

Charity plays a big part in the company ethos and last year, to celebrate 20 years in the business, the staff raised over £24,000 for two local charities.

So why should you use Jackson Grundy to buy your dream Spanish home? Office Manager, Amy comments, "There are literally hundreds of real estate agents on the Costa Del Sol and over 20,000 properties for sale, so it can be a minefield when you start your search, especially if you're unfamiliar with the Spanish system. A common mistake is registering your details with lots of agents assuming it's like the English system."

At Jackson Grundy we have access to every property along the coast and can guide you through the buying process from start to finish. We will get a true understanding of your requirements to allow us to advise appropriately and show you the different localities. As in the UK, location is of paramount importance, so working closely with an agent you can trust will provide real peace of mind."

So if you need to know more about buying on the Costa Del Sol, please contact our team in Spain or in the UK on 01604 753044. We would be delighted to assist you and your custom will be appreciated.

Homes & Gardens

Love your home and garden this Summer

The heart of every kitchen is the oven, where heat works its magic, turning raw ingredients into wonderful food and aromas. Today's built in ovens combine innovative technology with energy efficiency and sleek, stylish design.

The multi-function oven combines all the benefits of hot air cooking with additional functions such as conventional cooking, grilling, hot air grilling, top/bottom heat only and defrosting. Hot air cooking is ideal for all types of food allowing you to cook sweet and savoury food at the same time without flavours and smells intermingling. Advanced cooking technology ensures precise heat circulation and exact temperature control. The result is perfect cooking in every corner, on any shelf, in any position.

Combination compact ovens are now available with the option of steam with hot air cooking. 100% steam cooking retains moisture and nutrients in the food, this is ideal for cooking rice, fish, vegetables and fruit, making a tastier and a healthier meal. 50% steam and 50% hot air helps conserve the texture and humidity of the food. This is ideal for casseroles, soufflés and reheating dishes. Reheating using steam puts life back into food using moisture, making food taste just as delicious the second time round. Whilst 25% steam and 75% hot air locks in the moisture and browns the outside for irresistible flavour creating juicy succulent meat and crunchy vegetables cooked to perfection.

Induction hob cooking is recognised as being one of the quickest, safest and most efficient methods of cooking available. Automatic pan recognition ensures that only pans heat up. When a pan with a ferrous or magnetic metal base is placed on the hob, the coil situated below the ceramic glass surface uses an electromagnetic field to create heat. Almost instantly heating the pan, with only the base of the pan heated, the cooking surface stays cool. Induction hobs are capable of bringing a pan to the boil faster than a comparable gas or conventional electric hob.

With all this power and technology at your fingertips, cooking will become quick and simple so you can sit back and enjoy delicious food, one of the finest things in life.

Bedrooms to die for

Following on in the Shabby Chic theme bedrooms lend themselves particularly well to this design with its pastel tones and elaborate furniture appliques depicting floral swags & garlands, cherubs and hearts.

You can treat yourself to as many pieces as your budget allows or have a go yourself at recreating the paint effects and rejuvenating old tired furniture. If unsure of your skills practice on any unwanted items or pick up something from a re-cycling or salvage yard.

Paint can be sanded back to give the aged look and is available in all the vintage tones.

Lime waxing is a great way to get the look if you don't want to add colour and can be built up to create the depth of tone required but keeping the wood grain visible.

Luxurious linens, throws & cushions complement the look and if your budget allows why not add a chandelier to add a touch of luxury.

If floral Shabby Chic is not your style then try Beach Cottage Chic or French Country, whatever you decide have fun creating your look.

DOUBLE DELIGHT: Plans have been submitted to build another screen at the Errol Flynn Filmhouse

Filmhouse plans for visitors to see double

BY LAWRENCE JOHN

lawrence.john@hpnorthants.co.uk

Royal & Derngate has submitted a planning application to build a second screen at the Errol Flynn Filmhouse to open in 2016.

The Errol Flynn Filmhouse, named after one of the Royal's most famous alumni, first opened its doors to the public in June 2013, and has since built up a loyal following, welcoming nearly 85,000 people over the two years, providing a first class cinema-going experience with its 88 reclining leather seats.

The proposed second screen is being designed by One17, the same architects and interior designers responsible for the existing cinema.

The new building will be of a similar look and style, with seats of the same design as the original, running parallel to the current Errol Flynn Filmhouse, with a new raised terrace between them, providing an enhanced outdoor seating area for customers to enjoy pre-screening refreshments.

Pre-planning discussions have been held with Northampton Borough Council's planning team prior to the full application being submitted.

The project is expected to cost around £650,000. The first cinema was funded through grants, sponsorship, financing arrangements and donations from customers. It is anticipated that funds for the second cinema will be raised from a variety of sources, as achieved previously.

Martin Sutherland, Chief Executive of Royal & Derngate and the Errol Flynn Filmhouse, said: "Having a second screen will enable us to maintain and increase the diversity of our programming, so we can continue to offer films that range from the more niche documentaries, cult classics and art-house films to the best of the new mainstream releases.

WHAT'S ON ROUND-UP

Till death do us part for EastEnders' couple

BY LAWRENCE JOHN

lawrence.john@hpnorthants.co.uk

EastEnders duo Shane Richie and Jessie Wallace may be planning to take a break from the soap, but they are not taking a break from each other after signing up to play a married couple on stage.

As Mr and Mrs Moon they have had their fair share of fall-outs, but their new stage husband and wife are taking things to a new - and deadly - level.

The pair will be committing The Perfect Murder at the Royal & Derngate in Northampton next March.

Directed by Olivier award winner Ian Talbot and adapted by award winning writer Shaun McKenna, this highly acclaimed dark comedy thriller delighted and frightened audiences across the country in 2014, with its darkly funny and gripping storyline.

Victor Smiley and his wife Joan have been married for a long time. But their marriage has reached crisis point and Victor has decided there is only one way to get Joan out of his life forever - but he's about to get a nasty surprise.

As a young Detective Roy Grace starts to investigate his very first homicide case, dark forces intervene and

KILLING IT: Shane Richie and Jessie Wallace are set for stage thriller

Grace begins to fear that nothing is quite as it seems quite as it seems.

The award-winning actors, who have starred together in EastEnders for the last 13 years and are also both well known for their numerous other TV and theatre credits, are equally excited by their upcoming stage debut together. Shane said: "It's an honour to be attached to Peter James work as I'm such a fan of his books."

Jessie added: "As soon as I read the script, I knew I had to do it! Watch out because sparks are going to fly and it's the perfect murder!"

The Perfect Murder is adapted by Shaun McKenna from the novel by Peter James, directed by Ian Talbot. The show runs March 14 - 19 in 2016.

Comedy begins at home in Fred's Twenty Fifteen

One of Scotland's most beloved comedians, Fred MacAulay, is coming to The Core at Corby Cube with his new show Twenty Fifteen.

Star of BBC Radio 4's The News Quiz, Bridget Christie Minds The Gap, and The Unbelievable Truth, Fred is also a familiar face on TV from appearances on QI, The News Quiz and Mock The Week. In his new show Twenty Fifteen, Fred looks back at his family life at home and forward to how his country will shape up after the referendum of 2014.

As well as looking forwards and backwards, Fred may also look sideways at politics, sport, the environment and, without sounding too like a brief for a newspaper, there will undoubtedly be a colour supplement with a look at 'celebrity'.

Tickets for the show on Tuesday, September 15, cost £15 with concessions at £13 and can be booked by calling Ticket Office on 01536 470470 or visiting www.thecorecorby.com.

BGT winner Paul Potts coming to town

The first winner of Britain's Got Talent will be at Northampton's Royal and Derngate theatre this autumn.

Paul Potts has announced his 16-date UK tour, which will see him travel across England and Wales delivering 'powerful yet emotive operatic performances'.

The opera star, who has already performed more live shows than any other contestant from a talent search programme, will be joined by special guest Catriona Murray - a classical soprano from Nottingham - throughout the tour.

They will grace Northampton at 7.30pm on Monday, November 2, 2015, and Paul will hope to once again remind audiences of his 'inspiring charm and rich, mellifluous classical prowess'. Tickets from £29.50. Book at www.royalandderngate.co.uk or call the box office on 01604 624811.

Yonderland

Sky 1, Mondays at 8pm

Yonderland is like a comedy Jaffa Cake. There is so much going on and you are never quite sure if it is aimed at children or adults.

The one thing it always does after you have watched it is it leaves you wanting another Jaffa Cake.

The story surrounds Debbie Maddox as she is 'the chosen one' and the woman who is always on hand to save Yonderland. At the start of every episode she is contacted by Elf who takes her to this wonderland via a teleporter, which is in a cupboard in the kitchen. It is where all good adventures start.

What is great about Yonderland is the comedy which both young and old will get but maybe not at the same time. Then there is the mix of humans and puppets which adds to the comedy mix.

Yonderland is on season two at the moment but you can catch up with season one on demand and those you have already missed from season two.

Once you watch this innovative comedy from the stars who brought you Horrible Histories there is no going back.

As I said you will want more comedy Jaffa Cakes, so feast well on Yonderland.

The all-new Honda Jazz is a snip from just £13,495

Honda UK has announced that the all-new Jazz subcompact hatchback will be priced from £13,495 on-the-road for the entry-level S model, rising to £17,425 for the flagship EX Navi CVT model.

The Jazz builds on the strong reputation of its highly successful predecessors. The newcomer retains the classic Jazz silhouette yet exhibits distinctive contemporary styling, including a powerful new face and strong character lines.

A new platform increases overall length by 95 mm, but highly efficient packaging means that the latest Jazz is proportionally even bigger on the inside than the previous generation model.

Occupants will benefit from both boot space (354 litres with the rear seats up and 897 litres with the rear seats down) and passenger space that are unrivalled in the class.

Specifications are generous across the range, with base-grade S models fitted as standard with convenience features such as air conditioning, cruise control with speed limiter and dusk sensing auto lights. Every grade comes with Honda's City-Brake Active to help avoid low-speed accidents.

The mid-grade SE model, priced from £14,595, adds front and rear parking sensors, electrically adjustable and heated door mirrors and 15" alloy wheels.

Those opting for the top-grade EX model (from £15,715) will appreciate smart entry and start, automatic climate control and six-speaker audio upgrade. Styling is enhanced with 16-inch alloy wheels and front fog lamps.

Customers opting for the SE or EX models will also benefit from the Honda Connect in-car infotainment system as standard. This Android-based system features an app-based 'pinch, swipe and tap' interface accessed on a seven-inch touchscreen in the centre of the dash.

Honda Connect comes with pre-installed apps, with others available for download from the Honda App Centre. These give rapid access to internet-based services such as web browsing, real-time traffic information, news and weather, social media, and internet music stations.

Designed and engineered to achieve a five-star Euro NCAP rating, every all-new Jazz sold in Europe will be equipped with Honda's City-Brake Active system as standard.

The all-new Jazz will go on sale in the UK in September.

COVERCAR

Hyundai i20

Take a look inside...

- £10,995 - £17,700
- Emissions: 84-155 g/km
- 0-60 13.1s
- Top speed 106mph
- (combined) 55.4mpg

The MK2 model Hyundai i20 is bigger, slicker and a good deal better equipped to take the fight to the top contenders in the supermini sector. Its predecessor won sales by playing the value card. This time round, Hyundai's counting on quality carrying it through.

Under the bonnet, Hyundai's main efforts have been centred upon developing a three cylinder petrol turbo engine to rival the Ford EcoBoost and Vauxhall 1.0 turbo direct injection units. The powerplant they've come up with is badged '1.0 T-GDI' and is a very competitive proposition, offering 120PS – significantly more power than its rivals, yet there's similar efficiency.

Of all the cars in its line-up, the i20 has traditionally been Hyundai's most conservatively-styled thing. Early design renderings for this second generation car looked a good deal more adventurous, but in the metal, it's been very toned down. It's still a handsome piece of penmanship though, carried out under the auspices of ex-Audi design boss Peter Schreyer.

The interior is really smart, with the design maturity of a much bigger car. Interior space has improved, with combined front and rear legroom of 1892mm, a class-leading figure and comparable with the space of some cars from the class above. The wheelbase is 45mm longer and additional legroom was created in the front by raising the height of the dashboard and moving the glovebox and surrounding components forward. Cargo capacity has also been enhanced, making the vehicle one of the most accommodating in the segment.

Certainly it's hard to think of a supermini that would be easier to live with than this one. Few others are more practical or better built and though pricing's crept up a little, this car remains affordable to buy. Of course, it isn't perfect. Not all the mainstream engines are as efficient as they could be, a point emphasised by some trendier, more avant garde rivals, some of which are better to drive. Overall though, if you can find a car in this class that makes more sense when you add together all the really important attributes that families look for in a supermini in this segment, then you'll be doing very well.

Sports Reporter

LSN media has a vacancy for a Sports Reporter.

The LSN media portfolio includes Bedfordshire on Sunday, Luton on Sunday, MK News and Northants Herald & Post.

We're looking for a new sports reporter to cover some of the biggest clubs and events British sport has to offer.

From County Cricket, to league football to Premiership rugby, motor racing and horse racing, Bedfordshire and Northamptonshire is one of the most varied and interesting patches a sports journalist could hope to work in.

Experience and a driving licence will be useful pluses on your CV but your main task is to convince us you are someone who is ready to inspire and expand our digital audience.

Working in conjunction with and in support of the LSN sports editor you will need to develop good relationships with the traditional major players but also be at the cutting edge of modern sports reporting, finding new ways of telling new stories.

This position will require some weekend and evening working but day to day you will be based in our office in Mill Street, Bedford.

Benefits: Competitive salary plus bonus structure • 5 weeks annual holiday • Childcare voucher scheme • Following a probationary period there is an option to join a contributory pension scheme and subsidised health cash plan.

To apply please email dan.palmer@lsnmedia.co.uk with three ideas for taking sport coverage in a new direction, and to request an application form.
Closing date 13th August.

We encourage applications from all walks of life and all applications will be considered on merit. It is the company's policy to employ the best qualified personnel and provide opportunity for the advancement of employees including promotion and training and not discriminate against any person because of sex, race, pregnancy, disability, marital or family status, ages, sexual orientation, religious beliefs or trade union membership.

ICT NETWORK MANAGER

Full-time, 37 hours per week
Salary £26,293 to £28,746 (Point Range 30 to 33)

Biddenham International School & Sports College is a friendly and inclusive, multicultural school. Departments are well resourced and dedicated staff foster deep learning within our close knit learning community. In September 2015 we open our contemporary state-of-the-art building to welcome an intake of Year 7 students who will benefit from an exciting and innovative curriculum.

We are seeking a motivated, hardworking and innovative ICT Network Manager to lead Biddenham's award winning in-house IT service team. The successful candidate will have a solid background in IT management, ideally in the education sector, and be qualified to degree level in a related subject or have equivalent experience.

The ICT Network Manager will be responsible for managing a team of two technicians and all digital technology across three school sites comprising Great Denham Primary, Biddenham International and Biddenham Sixth Form. The successful candidate should have extensive experience managing Microsoft desktop and server operating systems, Google Apps and Chromebooks, as well as iPad MDM management. A solid working knowledge of network switches, routers and wireless access points is also required.

The school uses Windows desktops, Chromebooks and iPads to support student learning. Visits to the school are most welcome.

Closing date: Monday 3rd August 2015 at 10.00am with interviews later that week.

Job description and application forms are available to download from the school's website www.biddenham.beds.sch.uk. Please send applications for the attention of Julie Shepherd or by email to hr@biddenham.beds.sch.uk.

POSSIBLE RETURN: Northamptonshire could try to bring back Pakistan star Shahid Afridi

Steelbacks mull over move to bring back legend Afridi

CRICKET

FROM BACK PAGE

last eight and Ripley said: "Over 14 games it's a fairly long campaign and if you're in the top four you deserve to be."

"We haven't got there on net run-rate, we're in there on points so we deserve our place in the quarter finals and we're going to look forward to it."

"After the three losses at the start I think we've done really well and played some good cricket."

"We've gone on a bit of a roll at the right time and I still think we would have won the Durham game but I'll take this all day long."

Northants haven't yet decided whether they want to bring Pakistan all-round star Shahid Afridi back for the knock-out stages after the team performed so well in his absence.

Afridi played in the first six T20 games for the Steelbacks and his time at the club unfortunately came to an end just as he was starting to find his best form.

Ripley said: "I've had some dialogue with his agent about the possibility of him coming back but it's very early in the piece."

"The reality is that we've reached the quarter finals with a group of players that have performed pretty well and consistently."

"You've got to balance bringing one of the world's top T20 players into your team as someone drops out, and how that's going to affect the group on that day and going forward?"

"It's not a shoe-in that we would go that way even if we could afford it."

In contrast to the T20 success, which means that Northants are just one victory away from a spot at finals day, the county have started the 50 over Royal London One Day Cup poorly and will need a similar turnaround in fortunes to progress in the competition after two defeats from two.

They were beaten by Durham at Wantage Road by 54 runs after failing to chase down 313-8 and they then slumped to a record defeat after a shambolic batting display saw them dismissed for 123 in just 24 overs while chasing Surrey's 343-5.

The 220 run thrashing was their heaviest one-day defeat in terms of runs, beating a 42-year-old record that was set against Kent at Brackley in 1973.

Ripley's men were due for a day/night clash at home to Leicestershire yesterday with a result due after the Herald & Post went to print, but the coach knew that improvement was essential.

"We have six matches left although we left ourselves a tough job in the T20s to qualify by losing our first three games," he said.

"This puts us in a similar position, I guess, having lost two from eight."

"I still feel we can go on that run that will win us the matches that we need but we've got to improve individually although I thought we were better as a team against Surrey."

"We fought back into the game on the field but it was more about individual skills in terms of what let us down with batting dismissals, some bad bowling and again we've dropped some catches."

"We haven't got many players outside of this group to call on and we've also got a few niggles within the team that may also need looking at."

"In terms of the personnel we've got, we'll wonder 'are we using them in the right roles?'"

"That will reflect in the batting order as well, in making sure that we've got the right batting line-up."

"I do tend to talk about continuity, which I believe has helped us in the past, but it could only be an eight-game competition for us so we can't leave it too late."

A particular bright spot for the county recently has been the batting form of keeper Ben Duckett, who made 69 from 60 balls against Durham before providing the sole resistance with the bat in the Surrey defeat as he reached 56.

The 20-year-old has now made career-best totals in all three forms of cricket across the last two weeks.

"He's probably in the form of his life at the moment so you want him facing as many balls as possible," said Steelbacks batsman Richard Levi.

"I think his best position in the order could be five or six, especially with his keeping, so he can have a little bit of time off and come in and play the way that he does."

Saints set sights on finding new stars as developing player scheme is expanded

SAINTS

Saints have confirmed that they will be expanding the club's Developing Player Programme as they aim to unearth new stars from the East Midlands and Eastern Counties.

Over the past two years the Developing Player Programme (DPP), which the Saints Academy runs in conjunction with the Rugby Football Union (RFU) and local constituent bodies, has gone from strength to strength, so much so that it is ready for a 50 per cent expansion in the number of centres and into new age groups.

As of this season the DPP will be based across six centres – Northamptonshire Alliance, East Northamptonshire, Bedfordshire, Cambridgeshire, Huntingdon and Peterborough and Suffolk – with U16 groups established to create greater opportunities for players and encourage continued participation within the sport. A pilot for U18s is also expected to be launched later in the year.

Previously DPPs had been based in four centres across the U13, 14 and 15 age groups.

The DPP ensures that youngsters receive more frequent sessions during the course of a season and more consistent feedback to enable them to develop as players. And as the club's youth development pathway continues to grow, the DPP has come to complement the Elite Player Development Groups that in turn feed the Junior Saints Academy.

Players are invited to join the DPP after being recommended by their school or club coaches, and the Saints will be in touch with schools and clubs throughout its academy region in coming weeks with more information as to how they can nominate individuals for assessment.

The club is also committed to developing coaching standards across the whole Eastern region, too, with club and school coaches from any age group both able to sign up to Cascade Coaching, a free development programme.

Cascade Coaching's first session was due to take place in Cambridge yesterday, with three further masterclasses to be held during the season.

Elite Player Development Group manager Ross Stewart says that the DPP expansion represents an exciting and notable step forward for the club.

"The DPP has become an excellent framework in how we develop young players, both in terms of how they grow as individuals but also in how it encourages us as an Aviva Premiership club to work with our local constituent bodies and sub-counties and the RFU," he said.

"It has grown rapidly, which is reflected in our decision to expand the number of centres to six."

"This gives us the ability to work with more players, expanding our own pool of talent and encouraging more youngsters to stay in the sport."

For more information about the DPP and how you can nominate players from your club or school to feature with the Franklin's Gardens team email Ross Stewart – rossstewart@northampton-saints.co.uk.

Toney not selected again amid interest

COBBLERS

BY DAN PALMER
sport@slsmedia.co.uk

The Ivan Toney transfer saga is 'ongoing' according to Cobblers boss Chris Wilder as speculation continues about the teenage striker making an imminent exit from the club.

Wilder left Toney out of his squad for Saturday's Maunsell Cup Final clash with neighbours Brackley Town amid interest from clubs in the Premier League and Championship. Toney was close to joining Championship side Wolves last season until the deal collapsed at the 11th hour and top flight outfit Newcastle United have been heavily linked this summer.

He was left out of the Cobblers' opening pre-season friendly at Sileby Rangers as well and it does seem to be a matter of when, and not if, he departs. Wilder, however, says he has no confirmed news yet and will continue to prepare Toney for the Cobblers' upcoming League Two campaign.

He said: "Things are ongoing, as I'm led to believe. Ivan was back training on Monday and he'll train all the way through the week until I'm notified otherwise.

"We felt we made the right decision on Saturday but he's back with us and we'll wait and see what develops during this week.

"Anything can happen in football, you're never surprised, so we'll work with Ivan.

"We need to get him as fit as we possibly can because if he doesn't go he's still our player and we've got an excellent player that gives definite quality to the group at the top of the pitch."

Northampton were victorious against Brackley, winning 3-0 thanks to a goal by Marc Richards and Alfie Potter's double. Meanwhile, the Cobblers have confirmed the signing of defender Rod McDonald after a successful trial period at the club.

The 23-year-old has spent pre-season at Sixfields after being recommended by head of recruitment Martin Foyle and he impressed boss Wilder enough to earn a one year deal. Born in Liverpool, McDonald started out in the Manchester City academy before moving on to Stoke City.

He signed for Oldham Athletic in 2010 and then had spells in non-league football with Stafford Rangers, Nantwich Town, Colwyn Bay and Hereford United.

His last club were AFC Telford United – with the Cobblers switch seeing him make a return to Football League level for the first time for four years.

Town face their final pre-season friendly tomorrow evening when they travel to part-timers Sheffield FC – the world's oldest football club which was founded in 1857.

Robinson gets winning feeling on the big stage

SWIMMING

BY JAMES GRAY
sport@slsmedia.co.uk

Northampton para-swimmer Eleanor Robinson has had a taste of winning in front of a big crowd – and it looks like she can't get enough after her success at a packed London Aquatics Centre on Sunday.

Robinson, just 13, conquered her nerves to beat Australia's Tanya Huebner, a swimmer with two medals from the 2015 IPC World Championships and 23 years her senior.

In the process, the youngster also broke her own S6 50m butterfly British record, coming home in a time of 37.85 seconds to win by five seconds in front of a partisan crowd.

"This is my first time swimming in front of a big crowd, and I really enjoyed having them behind me," said Northampton Swimming Club's Robinson.

"The noise really helped when I was swimming, and walking out to my blocks I was trying to take it all in.

"Watching all of those swims before mine was amazing. The tension had been building all the way up to my race, and when I dived in I just gave it my all.

"I always get nervous before a race but for me it's just about controlling those nerves.

"I'm getting better but it was a really loud crowd.

"Not many 13-year-olds get the chance to do this, and it's a great experience coming and swimming in the Olympic pool. It's amazing."

The race was part of National Paralympic Day, an annual event designed to help continue the legacy of the London 2012 Paralympic Games with elite athletics stars also taking part at the Olympic Stadium.

The swimming included stars of the 2012 Games such as Jessica-Jane Applegate and Stephanie Millward, as well as Ellie Simmonds, making her first return to the Aquatics Centre since taking gold there three years ago.

Robinson, meanwhile, only started swimming after the London and despite the fact that she would be one of the squad's youngest members, she is not ruling out a trip to the Rio Olympics in Brazil next summer.

"It would be a real bonus to swim at Rio of course, but I'm really looking at Tokyo 2020 as my main aim at the moment," Robinson added.

"I love swimming at big competitions, but it's the Nationals next which are really special because we get to swim alongside the able-bodied athletes as well which is a lot of fun.

"National Paralympic Day has helped para-swimming, because everyone is talking about it and the television cameras are here. It's really exciting.

"My confidence has definitely grown since I started swimming and I've progressed really quickly so it's been great."

Northamptonshire Steelbacks' place in the quarter finals of the NatWest T20 Blast may have been confirmed in low-key fashion but head coach David Ripley feels it is fully deserved.

A magnificent run of form in which they won seven out of nine games after they had lost their first three matches in the competition put the 2013 champions in position to qualify ahead of their scheduled final match of the group stage at home to Durham on Friday.

Persistent rain throughout the day meant the match against the Jets was washed out without a ball being bowled though, and this could have taken their fate out of their hands.

However, the weather also claimed Nottinghamshire's match at Leicestershire along with Lancashire's at Worcestershire which meant the Steelbacks finished third in the North Group. They will travel to Sussex in the
